"Just after I did my graduation from Mangalore University, I was wondering where to place my priorities and that is when I heard about Indian Institute of Plantation Management in Bengaluru. With the plantation background that I had from the childhood, I did not think twice in accepting a two year (2013-15) PGDM course with them. It is under their intense tutelage that I have learnt a lot in the field of agriculture. No sooner than I finished this course, I was appointed by a company which is a global leader in crop nutrition.
